Leadership

Intense.
Dynamic.
Powerful.

Are you ready for a challenge?

an experience that creates a deeper self-awareness of you as a leader

what it's like to put everything on the line...

“This experience stands alone...”

Alistair, Organisational Behavioural Consultant

reframing Leadership:

The true test of character is ...

how we behave when we don't know what to do.

John Holt quoted in The Randori Principles, Baum & Hassinger

An intense multi-day experience designed to increase your capacity for dignity, integrity, communication, teamwork and honour. It will change how you think about leadership and reframe past experiences to create a new awareness around what you need to be to lead in your own Way.

This unique workshop is specifically designed for those people who understand that leaders can and must exist at all levels of their organisation.

Being a leader is not an intellectual exercise.

It requires you to take decisive action in this moment - even if you are uncertain. Action that is consistent with a clearly understood set of values that will benefit you as an individual as much as it benefits your team.

What others have said about their experience:

"Leaders of today and tomorrow need to understand the meaning of trust. They must then demonstrate it in their behaviour. This participatory personal learning experience stands alone in developing these traits. The Samurai Game helps aspiring leaders to identify and reinforce their code of honour and ethics, their Bushido. Paul Marshall's brilliance guides you across new ground in the Samurai Game in a fun and safe environment."

- Alistair, Organisational Behaviour Consultant

"I can't recommend this highly enough as a good way to do a personal, professional, mental and life checkup. I learned a lot about myself and my strengths when I attended. You don't have to 'bare your soul' in front of others...it's very private and personal, and a great thing to do for yourself."

-Spencer, Business Owner

finding your own Way

with the Samurai Game®

about the workshop

Finding your own Way embodies the paradox of leadership.

You will explore and discuss the heart and mind of what makes it possible to lead others in uncertain times while under the pressures of business, organisational dynamics, professional competition, family and individual daily life.

You will also take action. At the heart of the workshop is the Samurai Game® - arguably one of the most intense learning experiences that organisations and individuals can participate in.

While it is intense, there is no significant physical contact. The workshop will provide the same opportunities regardless of your physical ability.

You will be part of a team fighting for the only thing that matters. However, as in life, your performance as an individual is the only thing that counts.

You will be asked to fully engage with others but can do so knowing that every aspect of the workshop is voluntary. Being a leader is your choice.

There is no rock music, no high-fives, and no group hugs. Just the opportunity to be who you know you can be and to gain the learnings and insights obtained by others who share the experience with you.

The game is live and unscripted so no two workshops will ever be the same. You will want to come back to tempt fate and to try again...
